

Hunt for man who lifted woman's skirt on Edinburgh to Dunblane train

Police have appealed for witnesses to an indecent incident on the 7.33pm ScotRail train from Edinburgh Waverley to Dunblane on Sunday 13 August.

During the journey, a woman's skirt was pulled up by a man as the train passed between Linlithgow and Falkirk Grahamston. The woman felt embarrassed and violated as a result of the man's behaviour.

The offender is white, approximately 5 ft 8 ins, unshaven and had fair receding hair. He is believed to be in his forties, wearing a black Adidas t-shirt and sandy coloured shorts.

The man was travelling with two teenage boys.
