

Edinburgh Kiltwalk – in photos

Today, around 3,000 people took to the streets of Edinburgh for this year's final Royal Bank of Scotland Kiltwalk to raise funds for walkers' chosen charities.

Sir Tom Hunter

leading the way for the Wee Wander was mother and daughter, 33-year-old Jeannette Smith and nine-year-old Lucy Abbeels from Edinburgh. They were fundraising for Spina Bifida Hydrocephalus Scotland as Lucy was born with Spina Bifida and Hydrocephalus

Julie Whyte from Dunfermline was joined by her 11-year-old daughter Abigail who was diagnosed with arthritis when she was just four. They were walking for the Edinburgh Children's Hospital Charity and Scottish Network for Arthritis in Children (SNAC).

Photos courtesy of Elaine Livingstone Photography t +44 \(0\) 7969 291 725