

Scotland Women's Under-19 squad announced for Croatia ties

Pauline Hamill will take charge of Scotland Women's Under-19s for the first time in Croatia for two matches against the hosts in Zagreb.

Hamill takes over from Gareth Evans who led the team in the recent European Championships in Northern Ireland where they narrowly missed out on qualification to the semi-finals.

Following the two games against Croatia, they will then travel to Hungary for the Euro Qualifying round where they will play three matches against the hosts, Armenia and Turkey in October.
