

Stand up comedy featuring Seymour Mace (and burgers)

There will be a night of live, alternative stand up comedy at the Braid Hills Hotel, Morningside on 3 November 2017 with Seymour Mace.

The line up includes MC GARETH WAUGH “One of the fastest rising stars of the Scottish comedy scene” – BBC with LUKE GRAVES “Very Funny... Where Graves really scores is in his relationship with the audience. He spoke to us all individually, and his responses during these moments of banter were quick, witty, and plenty of fun” □- Fringe Guru2 Up and Coming Acts

SEYMOUR MACE will be at the top of the bill and although now best known for his regular appearances with Johnny Vegas in BBC’s Ideal, Mace is a stand-up performer of some renown.

Having worked around the world in street theatre, Seymour also trained as a circus clown before finally taking the plunge into stand-up. With the highly transferable skills of his two previous trades Seymour was soon headlining at all the major clubs in the UK and is a former City Life Comedian of the Year alongside Peter Kay, Alan Carr, John Bishop and Jason Manford.

In 2015, he received a Foster’s Edinburgh Comedy Award nomination for his show ‘Niche as Fk!’ Seymour has also appeared on Johnny Vegas’s episode of Dave’s One Night Stand and featured in the second series of Jason Cook’s sitcom Hebburn as music producer Eric.
