

Woman seriously injured after falling from bridge onto City Bypass

A woman was seriously injured after falling from a bridge onto the carriageway at the Calder junction of the A720 Edinburgh City Bypass around 4pm yesterday afternoon.

The woman was taken to Edinburgh Royal Infirmary where she is in a serious condition.

The road was closed in both directions causing delays for drivers during the rush hour.

An investigation into the circumstances is underway.

A police spokesman said: "We were called to the A720 Edinburgh city bypass at around 4pm on Monday after a female fell from an overpass at Calder junction onto the carriageway.

"The road was closed while emergency services attended and the woman was taken to hospital where she is in a serious condition.

"Officers are now carrying out enquiries to establish the exact circumstances and any witnesses are asked to contact officers at Wester Hailes Police Station on 101 quoting incident 2351 of September 4."