

Caledonian Sleeper make an offer to Ryanair customers

Journey of a night time for those affected by cancellations between Scotland and London

Caledonian Sleeper are offering Ryanair customers who might no longer have an airline booking to London a lifeline. The airline cancelled many flights between now and the end of the year, particularly to London..

The overnight train is offering a 20 per cent discount to passengers with a valid Ryanair booking between Scotland and London over most of the affected dates.

The offer, which runs until February 28 2018, will allow those impacted by recent cancellations to secure alternative travel at a discounted rate.

Guests can travel within a day of their original Ryanair booking, and should use the code 'RYANAIR' when booking online here.

Keith Wallace, Caledonian Sleeper Managing Director, said: "We want to give people affected by the Ryanair cancellations peace of mind. We offer an alternative way of travelling between Scotland and London, which will allow affected passengers to fulfil their previous travel arrangements, getting where they need to be as they originally planned."

The offer is valid on both legs of Caledonian Sleeper's Edinburgh-London and Glasgow-London routes, with all accommodation available, including First Class Rooms.

Guests must bring a copy of their original flight booking on the evening check in for travel on Caledonian Sleeper, or they will be required to pay the full fare.

To make your booking, simply visit www.sleeper.scot and use the promo code 'RYANAIR' when prompted.
