

Filmed from above – see Scotland from a new perspective

Thomas Haywood's feet may not leave the ground, but his videos are shot from hundreds of feet in the air.

✘ A professional photographer, Thomas went 'back to school' to learn how to fly a drone and make films like this one below. Now he offers himself and his drone for commercial photography – or to check your roof which is otherwise inaccessible. Food for thought in the stormy weather we are having.

Here is his latest Showreel. As he says in his tagline 'Let your images take flight!'
