

Zen Lifestyle Scoop Scotland Salon of the Year

Acclaimed Edinburgh-based salon group Zen Lifestyle is celebrating having won two prestigious industry awards – Large Salon of the Year and Boutique Salon of the Year – at the Regional Professional Beauty Awards, the Oscars of the beauty industry.

Zen Lifestyle beat off competition from around Scotland at the annual awards ceremony which celebrates excellence and innovation in the beauty, spa and aesthetics world. Impressing the judges on the salon group's commitment to innovation, customer service and industry leading training programmes to ensure highly skilled and motivated therapists, multi-award-winning Zen scooped both Large Salon of the Year for its state of the art flagship Hanover Street salon and Boutique Salon of the Year for its iconic Bruntsfield Place salon, the original Zen Lifestyle which opened back in 1999.

Zen Lifestyle Owner & Founder Fiona Fowley commented on the news: "They are the ultimate industry accolades and to have won is a testament to all the hard work of everyone at Zen – we are just delighted with the news."

"We are also celebrating 18 years of Zen Lifestyle this year. And, whilst the salon group are nearly two decades old, we've continued to evolve to ensure we're always ahead of industry trends and clients always have access to the most innovative and effective treatments. We are always developing our offering and just this month we launched the powerful non-surgical facelift, the Exilis Facial Skin Tightening, which uses the world's most advanced, leading technology and powerful radio frequency available on the market."
