

Edinburgh is best for new business in the UK

Analysis commissioned by MoneySuperMarket has discovered that Edinburgh is the best place to set up a new business in the whole of the UK.

The information shows that Edinburgh fares best owing to the cost per workstation which comes in at £300 and good broadband speeds of around 34 mbps.

There are apparently 11 co-working spaces per 1000 people available in Edinburgh one of the factors which takes Edinburgh into the lead. Aberdeen is 7th on the list.

You can read more about the research here.