

Earth Hour marked at Edinburgh Castle

Edinburgh Castle and landmarks across Scotland switched off their lights in support of Earth Hour on Saturday night.

Hundreds of millions of people around the planet will be taking part in WWF's Earth Hour as a symbolic show of solidarity for the planet.

Pictured : animal silhouettes stand at Edinburgh Castle to symbolise that climate change is effecting wildlife across the globe.

(Photograph: MAVERICK PHOTO AGENCY)