

Lothian shortlisted for three awards

Lothian has been shortlisted for three awards at this year's Scottish Transport Awards.

The awards which will take place on Thursday 14 June at the Radisson Hotel in Glasgow, are in their 16th year and recognise the achievements of the transport industry throughout Scotland.

Lothian have been nominated in the categories for 'Public Transport Operator of the Year', 'Best Bus Service' for Airlink and 'Excellence in Travel Information and Marketing' for its Christmas campaign.

Richard Hall, Managing Director of Lothian said of the nominations: "Being recognised by the industry for our work over the past 12 months is a credit to the dedication and hard work of the whole Lothian team. We are continually developing the business and with the help of everyone across the Lothian family, 2018 is set to be another great year for Lothian."

Lothian was awarded silver in 'Top City Operator' and 'Environmental' categories at the UK Bus awards last year.
