

Facebook and your data – how worried should you be?

This Saturday 21 April 2018 at 4.00pm you can go to a meeting at St Margaret's House to find out about your online data.

People Know How are partnering up with St Margaret's House to hold a public discussion about what Facebook might have done with your personal data.

Legal experts Judith Rauhofer and Burkard Schafer and data experts Mhairi Aitken offer their perspectives based on research expertise.

There will be table discussions to offer everyone the chance to talk and ask questions.

More details on the event here