

Fancy a career in early learning and childcare?

If you fancy a career in early learning or childcare then the council is running two information events this week at the Scottish Storytelling Centre.

The first on Friday 20 April runs from 9.30am to 12 noon and the second from 12.30pm till 3.00pm. If you can't make it along then there is more information here.

There will be presentations from people who have changed their career paths and who are now involved in childcare. There will also be opportunities to talk one on one with council employees and representatives from colleges and private training providers.

The City of Edinburgh Council is promoting this as a way of getting into childcare :

"You could earn £15,300, while you train with us and £20,000 plus, when qualified. For Early Years training posts which start with the Council this August, the deadline for applications is 6 May 2018. You can find more details on MyJobScotland.

“To help you decide if a career in early learning and childcare is for you, then why not sign up now for one of our information events.”
