

Flying Tiger roars into the Gyle

The Flying Tiger Copenhagen will open a new store at The Gyle next month bringing a bit more shopping fun to Edinburgh as well as its existing store at Waverley Mall.

Opening this Friday 4 May 2018 the shop will be situated next to M&S and will offer all sorts of products for your home as well as for children and adults.

Mike Davis, Managing Director of Flying Tiger Copenhagen in Scotland commented:

“We’re delighted to be opening in the Gyle Shopping Centre and be serving the west of Edinburgh and Livingston. Flying Tiger has had a hugely positive impact on British retail, and following in the footsteps of our store in Waverley Mall, we’re excited to see another successful addition to our repertoire of shops in Scotland.”

The brand is already well known in Glasgow, Dundee, Stirling and Edinburgh bringing some Danish heritage to Scotland.

Davis continued: "Flying Tiger Copenhagen at the Gyle Shopping Centre will be our first store opening in Scotland this year, and our expansion plan for 2018 means more exciting openings on the horizon, including East Kilbride Shopping Centre at the start of July.

The store will open in readiness for summer with lots of appropriate products including picnic, outdoor toys and outdoor games for the whole family. The store offers you all the things you didn't know you needed, things you've dreamed of and things you never knew existed! We are confident this store will bring the best out of the beloved Flying Tiger Copenhagen shopping experience."
