

UCI Fort William Mountain Bike World Cup

On Saturday 2nd and Sunday 3rd June 2018 the UCI Fort William Mountain Bike World Cup returns to the Nevis Range.

The action-packed weekend event will feature over 250 of the world's greatest downhill riders. Among the riders battling out in the second stage of the sport's premier competition are sporting superstars Rachel Atherton, Danny Hart and Greg Minnaar.

As well as showcasing the very best of the sport, the event offers a great family day out complete with demonstrations, displays and entertainment, all set in the picturesque surroundings of the Nevis Range.

Each year, more and more fans flock to the Fort William for the only UK leg of the UCI Mountain Bike World Cup. Last year the event attracted over 22,000 spectators. As well as being recognised by the public, the event has also been honoured with 33 international and national awards.
