

Arnold Clark is giving away 300 kits to youth sports teams

Arnold Clark is giving away kit to youth sports teams across Scotland for the fifth year in a row – and a chance to win a share of £3,000 as a prize.

All sports teams for children aged 4-15 can take part no matter what sport they play.

To enter you have to follow the instructions on the Arnold Clark Gear Up for Sport webpage here. Winning teams can either get playing kits or training gear. There was a record entry for this competition last year with everyone from artistic roller skating to competitive scuba diving taking part.

Arnold Clark Chief Executive and Group Managing Director Eddie Hawthorne said: 'Gear Up For Sport reaches the heart of communities and provides something really useful for sports clubs. Over the years we've seen this competition grow and grow with hundreds of clubs benefiting from it. We're really looking forward to hearing from sports clubs throughout the UK and helping young people get some smart new kits.'

The cash prize will be shared between three winners and all you do to enter this part of the competition is send a team photo showing your team's spirit. All entries will be posted on social media and the photo with most likes wins.
