

Musicians in unique concert performance

A unique musical collaboration reaches its climax on Saturday 2 June in the newly-refurbished McEwan Hall as 150 amateur, professional and student singers join forces with professional and student orchestral players to raise the roof with Verdi's dramatic Requiem and Szymanowski's beautiful Stabat Mater.

With support from the University of Edinburgh, the Italian Cultural Institute and the Polish Consulate this is a significant musical event – and a tremendous opportunity for the capital's student musicians.

EDINBURGH
ROYAL
CHORAL
UNION

Sat 2 June 2018, 7.30 pm
McEwan Hall, Edinburgh

Tickets £20/£16 (£5 students)
from usherhall.co.uk / 0131 228 1155
or tickets@ercu.org.uk

  /ercunews

VERDI • REQUIEM

SZYMANOWSKI • STABAT MATER
Emma Moravcsik soprano

MICHAEL BAWTREE • CONDUCTOR
EDINBURGH UNIVERSITY CHAMBER CHOIR
Thomas Kinch tenor Nuno de Araújo Pereira baritone Arthur Bruce baritone

SUPPORTED BY

THE UNIVERSITY of EDINBURGH