

Silent Disco Tours want to make a noise all over Edinburgh

Boogie your way through Edinburgh's key movie locations and haunted hotspots. Silent Disco Tours has launched a range of innovative and fun sightseeing tours in Edinburgh. Visitors will be guided around the city to see the top tourist sites and learn about Edinburgh while dancing along to a funky playlist on high-tech wireless headphones.

All photos courtesy of
www.iangeorgesonphotography.co.uk
Pictured Tour Guide Douglas Munro with participants Roisin King, John Dunlop, Callum
Timms and Charis Fleming

There are four tours to choose from:

The Original Tour takes visitors on a tour of Edinburgh's Old Town where they will learn about the area's rich history, including ghost stories, myths and legends, while listening to popular sing-along hits.

The Movie Tour – participants will visit key locations used in Hollywood blockbuster films and TV shows including Avengers: Infinity War, Trainspotting and Outlander, while listening to well-known songs from the films' soundtracks.

The Royal Mile Tour – revellers will be guided from Edinburgh Castle to the Palace of Holyroodhouse, bopping through hidden alleyways and historic closes along the way, while listening to some of the top hits from the past four decades.

The Haunted Tour – includes some of Edinburgh's oldest and most haunted streets whilst listening to chilling tunes; and The Cultural Tour will guide visitors to Edinburgh's must-see sights while boogieing along to some of Scotland's top artists.

Tours run at 11am, 2pm, 4pm and 6pm from Thursday to Sunday and last one hour. All tours start and finish in the Grassmarket and cost £12.50 per person or £10 for children aged five and over.

Tours can be booked online via www.silent-disco-tours.co.uk or by calling 08000937005.

