

Take a trip to the Scottish Vintage Bus Museum

Lothian are running a day trip on 20 May 2018 to take bus enthusiasts to the Scottish Vintage Bus Museum.

There is an Open Day there to enjoy all that you need to know about old buses and also the chance to go for a ride on some vintage vehicles.

Lothian will take you there on a bus which leaves St Andrew Square opposite Harvey Nichols at 9.30am and return you to the same place leaving the museum at 4.00pm.

The day return for adults costs £5.00 and 2 children may travel free with a fare-paying adult.

The entrance charge to the museum is not included – £7 for adults and a family ticket available at £17.

More details here

Photo courtesy of Lothian