

Cricket – Scotland win Tri-Nations

Matthew Cross scored 50 for Scotland in the win over The Netherlands. Picture by Nigel Duncan Media

Scotland claimed the Tri-Nations T20 Trophy in Holland thanks to a comfortable win over The Netherlands.

Kyle Coetzer's side scored 221 for three wickets in their 20 overs.

George Munsey top scored with 71 with Richie Berrington collecting 64 runs and Matthew Cross 50.

Scott Edwards scored an unbeaten 31 for The Netherlands, but the hosts never threatened.

Hamza Tahir took three wickets as the Dutch were skittled for 106.

The 115-run victory was Scotland's second over the Netherlands following a defeat and a draw against Ireland.

The Dutch had earlier defeated the Irish twice.