

Work begins on new restaurant at Port Edgar Marina

A new restaurant and bar is being created at Port Edgar Marina in South Queensferry, offering you another reason to get out of town.

New restaurant at Port Edgar will open later in the year.

Scotts will open later this summer and owned by hospitality group Buzzworks Holdings it will bring qualities that the brand is now known for to the new outlet. Scotts is already well known on the west coast in Ayrshire and this is the first on the east of the country.

There will be an extensive all-day menu starting with breakfast or coffee.

Kenny Blair, Buzzworks Holdings MD, said: “We were thrilled to pick up the keys to our new venue and begin bringing our vision for our first Scotts in the East to life. We pride ourselves in creating fabulous venues offering delicious food, superb cocktails and outstanding service and what we are planning to create here at Port Edger will certainly not disappoint.

“This is another great step forward in our continued growth strategy as we branch out from the west of Scotland. The venue not only brings a new dining experience to compliment the area, but with over 75 jobs being created, it’s an ideal opportunity to work with a company ranked within The Sunday Times 100 Best Companies to Work For.

“The restaurant will quickly take shape and we look forward to opening our doors in the coming months.”

Buzzworks Holdings manages ten prestigious venues including Elliots in Prestwick, Scotts in Troon and Largs, Lido venues in Prestwick and Troon, The Treehouse in Ayr, The Longhouse in Kilmarnock, The Mill House in Stewarton, The Corner House in Kilwinning and The Coach House in Bridge of Weir.
