

Afternoon tea for charity at the Bonham

The Bonham Hotel in Edinburgh's West End held a special afternoon tea for the local dementia group.

The four star Bonham invited members and staff from the North Edinburgh Dementia Care group for a luxury afternoon of tea, cakes, and scones served with cream and preserves.

The group provides nurturing services, activities and support for people with dementia, as well as their carers.

Lee Walker, Duty Manager of The Bonham Hotel, said: "After meeting the group last year and hearing about their need for local trips for members, we knew we wanted to host a special afternoon tea.

"We had a wonderful afternoon and it gave the members a chance to relax, chat and enjoy cakes and scones prepared by our head chef."

Sandra, Sheila Wight, Susan Cull and Lee Walker

Susan Cull, Manager of North Edinburgh Dementia Care, said:
"We want to say a huge thank you to The Bonham for their invitation to afternoon tea for our members and staff. Our members thoroughly enjoyed the treats and fabulous service from the friendly hotel staff who went out of their way to accommodate all of our needs.

“Our members benefited greatly from the fun-filled day and it gave everyone the opportunity to socialise in a different environment and enjoy a relaxing afternoon while taking in the beauty of the hotel. The delicious scones and cakes were the cherry on top of a lovely day out.”

The Bonham recently had a multi-million pound refurbishment, and unveiled its 49 individually styled and refurbished guest rooms and suites only a few weeks ago.

You can find out more about The Bonham at thebonham.com

Alistair Cummings, Alan Brown, June MacGregor at the Bonham