

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2018 – Ciarán Dowd Don Rodolfo

This August, character comedian Ciarán Dowd (as seen in BBC1's Josh, E4's Gameface and fringe hit sketch shows from BEASTS) becomes total butthead, shameless libertine and incomparable swordsman: Don Rodolfo in his hotly anticipated solo fringe debut.

Don Rodolfo will take you on a journey through 17th century Europe, detailing his conquests, his adventures and every stupid thought in his idiot head. From his violent birth and dysfunctional youth to his first great love; from the murder of his father to his hunt for the killer, join Don Rodolfo to explore a world usually reserved for great literature and awful TV adaptations.

Ciarán Dowd: Don Rodolfo (directed by Tom Parry) comes to the Pleasance Courtyard at 10:45pm, 1st – 26th August (except 15th) as part of the Edinburgh Festival Fringe.
