

Barton Willmore announce promotions in Edinburgh

Planning and design consultancy Barton Willmore, has revealed a range of high profile promotions for its team operating in Scotland from its George Street office.

Euan Revell, who is based in the capital has been promoted from Senior Architect to Associate Architect and Hamish Jack has also been promoted.

Euan Revell is promoted to Associate Architect

Revell, who has worked for the company for two and a half years, handles a range of commercial projects with a focus on affordable housing in Fife and Edinburgh.

He said: “My focus as an Associate Architect is to further cement our reputation for innovative design and creating long-standing and trust based relationships with existing and new clients.”

He added: “I’m very pleased to have my contribution recognised and to be moving up the ladder for my skills, experience and expertise across affordable housing.”

Stuart Bishop, architectural director at Barton Willmore, said: “We have evolved and grown over the years and remain agile and innovative and we are lucky to have such a dedicated team.”

Hamish Jack becomes Urban Designer

Hamish Jack joined Barton Willmore in 2016 and has been promoted from Urban Design Assistant to Urban Designer.

Barton Willmore recently expanded its operation in Scotland with the opening of an office in the centre of Glasgow.