

Principal Edinburgh Charlotte Square already planning for New Year's Eve

From glitter balls and LED ballerinas to champagne celebrations courtesy of Taittinger – it's the party not to be missed.

The Principal Edinburgh Charlotte Square is polishing the glitter balls and rolling out the red carpet on Hogmanay for a New Year's Eve filled with endless possibility, luxury, sparkle and of course, dancing!

Renowned for its legendary parties, The Principal Edinburgh Charlotte Square promises an evening of surprise performances, and a two hour set from one of the most up and coming talents on the UK DJ scene.

To help kick the festivities off, top make-up artists from the award-winning Gypsy Shrine will be on hand to ensure The Principal has the most dazzlingly, glamorous guests in the city.

Throughout the night, guests can expect to be wowed with showstopping entertainment. The infamous Fireflies – LED Ballerinas – will be kicking off the night with a stunning balletic performance in beautiful, custom-made LED tutus. To continue the spectacular entertainment a contortionist will thrill guests with incredible acrobatic performances atop a gigantic mirror ball.

Taittinger Champagne will help guests see in 2019 with bubbles on arrival and a champagne toast alongside the midnight kisses. Delicious food and drink will be served throughout the night including canapés from The Oyster Man and The Principal Famous Food Flashes.

Johan Scheepers, General Manager said: “At The Principal Edinburgh Charlotte Square, we are renowned for throwing the most talked about parties in Edinburgh. This year, we wanted to throw a Hogmanay party with mystery, elegance and a lot of dancing. Guests can expect a glamorous affair with only delicious bursts of food throughout the evening, champagne and unforgettable entertainment – plus a few magnificent surprises!!”
