

At Studio Bizio – Talk by photographer Camille Seaman

American artist Camille Seaman who is presently exhibiting with Studio Bizio Gallery on Raeburn Place will be in the studio for an artist's talk on 28 November 2018.

Camille is an American photographer who applies portraiture strategies to capture the changing natural environment. Her work mainly concerns the polar regions, where she captures the effects of climate change, thus merging the realms of science and art. She is of Native American and African-American descent through her father and mother respectively.

She is a Senior TED fellow and we are assured she is a fascinating speaker!
