

Hockey – men's Masters trials are this month

Trials for various hockey Masters teams from over 35s upwards are being held in November.

The Masters 35s, 40s and 45s trials are on Sunday, November 18 at Glasgow's National Hockey Centre from 10am to 1.30pm.

Any Masters player in these age groups is welcome and this is part of the build-up to the over 35s Home Nations from June 28 to 30 in Glasgow, the over 40s Home Nations in Wales from May 17 to 19 and the over 45s Home Nations in Glasgow from June 28 to 30.

The European Championships for all three age groups are from July 22 to 31 at Rotterdam HC in Holland.

Trials for the Scottish Masters over 50s and 55s men trials are also being held on Sunday, November 18 from 1pm to 5pm at Peffermill in Edinburgh.

The session is for men aged 49 to 58 and 25 players will be selected for each of the two age groups.

Players should ideally be training and playing regular competitive hockey and be available for Masters tournaments next year.

They are the over 50 Home Nations in Wales from May 17 to 19, the over 55 Home Nations in Scotland from June 28 to 30 and the European Championships at Krefeld in Germany from August 8 to 17.

More information can be obtained from Scottish Hockey in Glasgow.