

Places Gym Club opens on Saturday

A new gym will open this weekend in Leith.

On 10 November 2018 the latest Places Gym Club will open on Leith Walk as part of the ongoing Engine Yard development.

Places Gym Edinburgh is the first club to open in the new boutique style. With investment over £700k, the Club provides high quality facilities with all the latest fitness equipment at an affordable price. Inside there is a beautifully finished gym with an array of cardiovascular kit, large resistance and free weights area and Olympic lifting platforms, plus functional training Queenax rig and sprint track.

As well as the gym, all members will have access to over 40 free classes every week plus virtual Les Mills classes. Downstairs you will find a large fitness class studio plus dedicated cycling studio.

Paul Sanderson, Places Gym Edinburgh Club Manager said: “We are so proud to be opening the first Places Gym Club in Edinburgh on Saturday. The team and I can’t wait to start helping the local community get active and achieving their fitness goals in these amazing facilities. There really is something for everyone here at Places Gym Edinburgh and we can’t wait to unveil the Club on Saturday”.

The opening on 10 November will include a DJ and dancers. You can have a tour of the facilities and see if Places Gym Edinburgh is the Place for you!
