Primary School pupil's art unveiled in Cramond

Primary School Pupil's Winning Artwork Unveiled in Cramond

A budding young artist from Cramond Primary School has had her winning artwork unveiled at Edinburgh's newest care home, Cramond Residence.

Six year old Lauren White was crowned the winner of a local art competition run by the Residence, after her poster depicting Cramond village was chosen out of over 400 entries.

Cramond Primary school pupil Lauren White has her Artwork hung in the Cramond Residence after it was voted as the winner of a competition at the school earlier in the year.
Reverend Russell Barr and Lauren White (winner)

Now, the pupil has been presented with her impressive artwork at a special ceremony. A reproduced piece, inspired by Lauren's winning work, has also been created and now takes pride of place in the Cramond Residence café.

Lauren's entry hugely impressed the art competition judges, who praised her use of vibrant colour, mixed materials and perspective, as well as commending the way in which her poster depicted Cramond as a very special place to live.

Eileen Gray, General Manager of Cramond Residence, said: "Lauren's art competition win was very well deserved as she had clearly worked incredibly hard on her poster of Cramond.

"Creating and cherishing memories is very important to us at Cramond Residence, so we are proud to have now unveiled the replica of Lauren's wonderful artwork as the prime piece in our café. We know it will be loved and admired by our residents for many years to come."

As a winner, Lauren also received a top of the range art set and easel, as well as Hobbycraft vouchers to allow her to continue her artistic ambitions.

Cramond Residence, Edinburgh's finest care home, has officially opened its doors and welcomed its first residents. Private appointments can now be arranged for you or a family member. Please phone Dorothy Brown, Client Relationship Manager, on 0131 336 1064.

For more information visit www.cramondresidence.co.uk

Cramond Primary school pupil Lauren White has her Artwork hung in the Cramond Residence after it was voted as the winner of a competition at the school earlier in the year.
Pictured Lauren White (winner)
Ria Ramage
Erin Do Rego (oldest, now at RHS)