

Remembrance at Linburn

A remembrance service was held at the Scottish War Blinded's Linburn Centre on Friday.

Friends of the charity attended the service along with a number of veterans with sight loss.

Pupils from the Royal Blind School laying the wreath they made themselves

Harry Hogg (Sub mariner in the navy WWII)

Bob Watt (served with the Royal Highland Fusiliers and Royal Scots 1951 – 1953)

Scottish War Blinded gives free support to ex-service men and women across Scotland, no matter if they lost their sight during or after service.

If you or someone you know could benefit from Scottish War Blinded's activities and support, call us free today on 0800 035 6409 or contact us online at www.scottishwarblinded.org