

Put on your Christmas jumper for charity!

It will be Christmas Jumper Day next week on 14 December 2019. This is a Save the Children fundraiser and you are invited to join in by wearing yours.

Sanjeeve Kohl the Still Game favourite, comedy queen Karen Dunbar and the bagpipers the Red hot Chilli Pipers along with the lovely James Cosmo (who we met on the red carpet at the premiere of Outlaw King) and Alan Cumming (who was in Edinburgh presenting Club Cumming for one night only this August) have all pledged their support.

Red Hot Chilli Pipers Christmas with Christmas jumpers on for Save the Children's Christmas Jumper Day Appeal. Photo © Sandy young Photography 07970 268944

Scottish comedian/actor/writer Sanjeev Kohli for Save the Children's Christmas Jumper Day Appeal.© Sandy young Photography

Red Hot Chilli Pipers Christmas with Christmas jumpers on for Save the Children's Christmas Jumper Day Appeal.© Sandy young Photography

Save the Children's Christmas Jumper Day. Scottish actor Alan Cumming. © Sandy young Photography

James Cosmo recently starred in Outlaw King © Sandy young Photography

Mark Ballard, Head of Country (Scotland), said: "Now in our seventh year, we are hoping to make this year's celebrations bigger and better than ever and we want to extend a huge festive thanks to everyone that has already signed up and donated. The money raised in our Christmas Jumper Day campaign helps us support the most vulnerable children in Scotland and around the world, giving children the gift of a better future.

"Every sweater really can make a difference – your jumper could help bring essential food, healthcare, education and protection of millions of children around the world who are missing out."

Register here and wear your woolly jumpers for charity!

Scottish comedian Karen Dunbar for Save the Children's Christmas Jumper Day 2018

© Sandy young Photography 07970 268944