

Search for Sophia Airey – body found

Body Found as Part of Search for Sophia Airey

Police have this morning confirmed that a woman's body has been found as part of the search for missing woman Sophia Airey.

A member of the public contacted officers after discovering a female body in the South Queensferry area around 9.45am on Saturday 22nd December.

No formal identification has taken place at this time, however Sophia's family have been informed and will be kept fully updated with the progress of this inquiry.