

Emerson Hyndman returns to Bournemouth following Hibs' loan spell

Emerson Hyndman has returned to parent club Bournemouth following the conclusion of his six-month loan deal.

The 22-year-old US international midfielder featured 17 times for the club this season and scored his only goal in the 6-0 win over Hamilton back in October.

He recently indicated that he would have liked to finish the season at Easter Road however that was not to be.

The player who came on as a substitute in Saturday's Edinburgh derby leaves with the best wishes of everyone at Hibernian.
