

Book your place at the Gliterary Lunch for International Women's Day and World Book Day

There is still time to book a place at the International Women's Day/World Book Day Gliterary Lunch in Edinburgh next month.

The lunch will have some fabulous women writers in attendance to help celebrate these two great causes. However, there are just a few tables left so get in touch to book a table of ten or individual places on a shared table.

Both events start at 12 midday with a sparkling drinks reception and canapés, followed by a delicious lunch. During the lunch, two award-winning guest authors will talk about the inspirations behind their latest books.

The event will finish around 3.00pm with coffee, conversation and an opportunity to meet the authors over a book signing. Details are as follows:

Edinburgh IWD Gliterary Lunch with Erin Kelly & Mary Chamberlain on Thursday 7 March 2019 between 12pm and 3pm at The Principal Hotel on George Street.

Book a place by email: sibh@gliterarylunches.com