

New appointment for Edinburgh surveyors

Struan Whyte has been appointed as a Senior Surveyor in Lambert Smith Hampton's Edinburgh office.

Working within the Capital Markets team, Struan will work across the whole of Scotland.

Prior to joining Lambert Smith Hampton Struan spent three and a half years with Montagu Evans in the office agency team, responsibly for the Edinburgh and central regions. Struan is a Property Development and Valuation graduate from Edinburgh Napier University and has also held committee roles with the Young Edinburgh Surveyors and the Office Agents Society.

Ian Davidson for Lambert Smith Hampton in Edinburgh said: "Struan joins us at a time of sustained growth and will play an important role in bolstering our capabilities across the city region and beyond."
