NEW ALLANWATER HOMES SALES ADVISER TELLS IT FROM THE HEART

▪ Joanne joins team at popular new development in Whitburn

Allanwater Homes has appointed a new Sales Adviser at its popular Heartlands development in Whitburn, West Lothian.

Joanne Ladlow, from Renfrewshire, brings with her a wealth of experience in the new build property sales industry, coupled with an enthusiasm for customer service and helping people.

Heartlands is proving to be a huge success for Allanwater Homes, representing the housebuilder's first foray into the West Lothian marketplace. Mid and end-terraced three bedroom Kintail villas are currently on offer, from just £157,995, plus impressive and spacious five bedroom detached Torridon villas at £305,995.

Joanne describes herself as “obsessed with property”, regularly taking her work home with her as she looks at property online in the evening!

“I’m thrilled to be part of the Allanwater Homes team here at Heartlands,” she said. “It’s such a great location, whether you’re commuting East or West, we have something to suit everyone,” she said.

“Our homes have everything buyers are looking for, whether you’re a first time buyer or looking for something large enough to satisfy the whole family,” she added. “They are eco friendly too, so offer cheaper running costs. I am confident I can help buyers find what they are looking for, and I think Allanwater Homes is a name they will come to trust.”

Joanne describes her favourite part of the job as helping customers choose all the things that make their house their home, such as the kitchen, the flooring, and the tiling choices. “I enjoy sharing that process with them. It’s also about making their journey to a new home, as stress free and pleasant as possible,” he said.

“My sister bought a new build home a few years ago,” added Joanne, “and it was great to watch her put her mark on the property. Buying a new home is the biggest purchase most people will ever make, and I’m committed to helping them make the right choices.”

The Torridon home has five bedrooms.

Just off junction A4 of the M8 at Whitburn, Heartlands offers a range of well priced, energy efficient homes. The properties offer flexible interiors, family rooms, offices for home working, en-suites, utility rooms and generous storage space for today's busy families. A high specification is included as standard, with a Premier Guarantee included with every home.
