

Decomposed body found in Edinburgh flat

A police investigation is underway after a badly decomposed body was found in a block of flats in Dumbiedykes Road.

Officers were called to the scene around 7am on Friday morning after concerns were raised for a person.

Police had been called to the house in January after concerns were raised but later left the scene.

A Police Scotland spokesman said: "Police in Edinburgh responded to an address in Dumbiedykes Road at about 7am on Friday following a report of concern for an occupant.

"On arrival, officers found the body of a person within and the death is being treated as unexplained.

"Enquiries are continuing and ongoing and a report will be submitted to the procurator fiscal."

He added: "We can confirm a previous call was made to this address on January 30 and enquiries in relation to this matter are ongoing."