

Hockey – Edinburgh clubs dominate semi-finals

Five Edinburgh clubs go for glory in the Scottish Cup this weekend at Glasgow's National Hockey Centre.

Grange, the newly-crowned Division One and play-off title holders, face Western Wildcats in one of the men's semi-finals.

Edinburgh University square-up to Grove Menzieshill in the other game in the last four. Both games are on Saturday.

In the women's competition, Edinburgh University, the league champions for the fifth year in a row, play city rivals Watsonians in one semi-final.

The other features Erskine Stewart's Melville against Dundee Wanderers. These two games are on Sunday.
