

Teenager charged after cyclists pushed into canal

A youth has been charged after a number of cyclists were pushed into the Union Canal on Wednesday 27th March.

Officers from the South West Community Policing team launched a thorough investigation resulting in a 17 year male being charged with a number of assaults.

Sergeant Alex Dickson from the South West Community Team said: "Tackling violence, disorder and anti social behaviour is a priority for police in Edinburgh and such reckless behaviour will not be tolerated. "We would like to thank the public for their positive response in relation to these incidents which was of great assistance during the inquiry."
