

Promotions announced at JLL

Three members of staff in the property consultancy JLL have been promoted to senior positions.

Freya Pottinger is now Senior Planning Consultant and Geoff Ferguson a specialist in affordable housing is also promoted to Senior Surveyor in the Edinburgh office.

In Glasgow Conor Doherty has become a Senior Surveyor and continues as part of the Valuation Advisory team.

All three joined through the firm's graduate scheme and completed their professional exams while employed.

Alasdair Humphery, lead director for JLL in Scotland, said: "These promotions are thoroughly well deserved and have been achieved as all three are now effectively operating in new, more senior roles as a result of delivering a consistently impressive service for our clients. We pride ourselves on an unwavering commitment to attract and retain the best talent our industry produces. These promotions are testament to this ambition and I'm proud to see that all three have chosen to learn, become professionally qualified and continue to develop their careers here at JLL."
