Last night legendary film maker Danny Boyle, was in town for his event when he was in conversation with Scottish screenwriter Andrea Gibb.

Boyle's latest film Yesterday is on tomorrow afternoon at Odeon Cinema 1 at 3.00pm. It is a musical comedy with a script by Richard Curtis. Himesh Patel stars as Jack who wakes up from an accident to a world where the Beatles never existed.

Mark Stewart, Edinburgh Office Managing Partner at Johnston Carmichael said: "Johnston Carmichael is delighted to be partnering with the Edinburgh International Film Festival in 2019 and sponsoring the 'In Person' strand, aligning our sharp minds with the sharp minds in the film industry and the insights they can offer. As Managing Partner of our Edinburgh office, it's fantastic to be involved with something on such a large stage, happening right here on our doorstep."

EIFF guests are being transported around the Festival in state-of-the-art Mitsubishi Outlanders and Mitsubishi Shoguns, provided by EIFF's Official Vehicle Partner The Leven Car Company.

Maria Lisi, Marketing Manager at Leven Car Company said: "We are very proud to be the Official Vehicle Partner for the Edinburgh International Film Festival. As a local family-owned business we are thrilled to be part of the world-renowned film festival and are very much looking forward to transporting the guests in style, using our industry-leading Mitsubishi vehicles. Please keep an eye on both EIFF & The Leven Car Company's social channels for exciting competitions running throughout the festival!"
