

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2019 – Ali Brice: Bin Wondering

HEROES OF THE FRINGE PROUDLY PRESENTS...BRICE: BIN WONDERING

Brice is back but he's not the same.

Still silly, but not the same... After a turbulent year of choices that couldn't be unmade, and drinks that couldn't be undrunk. Ali Brice decided to start living the life he wanted, to be the change he wanted to see in his world, but 6 months later Ali is in his pants and in a bin. He's on his own, but Ali's rarely stumped for company. Join him for his sixth show of whip-sharp crowd work, charming storytelling with his trademark absurd characters.

Directed by Jonny Freeman who is returning to the Fringe having previously co-written and directed The Kagools first smash-hit Edinburgh shows Kagoolio. Star of stage and screen, his recent credits include Four Weddings and a Funeral, Midsomer Murders and he is also the man in a kaftan (current Monzo advert).

"This is my tenth fringe. I've finally done some soul searching, so I got in a bin... where I found all my flyers."

★★★★★ "a twinkle-eyed comedy natural" ShortCom.co.uk

★★★★★ "Eric Meat is a side-splittingly comical entity
TheUpcoming

★★★★ "joyously bonkers...the perfect level of exaggerated oddness

★★★★ "The Mighty Boosh and Reeves & Mortimer, with a bit of Phoenix Nights Broadway Baby

★★★★ "completely bizarre...deadpan, yet totally off-the-wall
ThreeWeeks

Read more at: www.alibrice.com |
Twitter @twicebricebrice | Facebook: facebook.com/twicebricebrice

VENUE 327 Heroes@TheSpiegelYurt

1-25 August (not 13th)

5.00pm

Tickets here

