

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2019 – cast announced for I Wish my Life Were Like a Musical

The cast has been unveiled for the Edinburgh Festival Fringe production of Alexander S. Bermange's comedic musical revue I Wish My Life Were Like A Musical.

The illustrious four, who will appear at Underbelly, Bristo Square (The Dairy Room, Venue 302) from 31 July to 26 August 2019, were selected from around 1,300 applicants.

The line-up will comprise James Hume, Felix Mosse, Charlotte O'Rourke and Charlotte Anne Steen.

Many London and nationwide audiences will be familiar with them from their performances in leading roles such as Javert in Les Misérables, Alex in Aspects of Love, Sophie in Mamma Mia!, and Sherrie in Rock Of Ages, respectively.

James Hume is currently appearing in Les Misérables in the West End, before which he toured internationally in Mary Poppins.

Felix Mosse's recent credits include Aspects of Love in Manchester and London, The Rocky Horror Show on its international tour, and the West End production of Les Misérables.

Charlotte O'Rourke has just completed a run in Mamma Mia! in the West End, having previously appeared in its UK tour.

Charlotte Anne Steen's recent credits include Bat Out Of Helland 42nd Street in the West End, and Rock Of Ages and We Will Rock You on tour.

The award-winning musical revue is the creation of Alexander S. Bermange, who has been described as a “genius in comic songwriting” (Cabaret Scenes) and is an iTunes comedy album chart-topper.

I Wish My Life Were Like A Musical explores the tumultuous world of musical theatre.
