

Roadworks in Edinburgh to look forward to this week

If you follow @EdinTravel on Twitter you will know what a great job they do in keeping traffic moving in the city. Each week they also give us a list of the roadworks which will be undertaken during the following seven days.

Here is the report for this week which includes any events which are taking place :

This week you have to pay particular attention to Summertime Streets which involves the closure of certain streets in the Old Town during the Festival for reasons of safety.
