

BBC Debate Night is coming to Edinburgh – and you could be in the audience

BBC Scotland's brand new discussion programme, Debate Night, is coming to Edinburgh on Wednesday 25th September 2019.

Debate Night is hosted by Stephen Jardine. It allows members of the public to put their questions directly to the politicians and prominent people in public life.

You lead the agenda – your questions make the programme.

Stephen said : “It has never been a more important time to have a programme that lets you speak directly to those in power.

“So whether you have a question about the UK leaving the EU, Indyref2, our NHS, schools, climate change, or other issues affecting your family – we want you to apply and be part of the it.

“We have had great feedback from previous audience members, and you can see some of their thoughts here.

“We want to make sure we hear from as many different perspectives as possible to have a well-rounded debate.”

Details of where the programme is recorded and how you can apply to be in the audience over the coming weeks are on the BBC website

Click on this link or go to bbc.co.uk/debatenight and click

“join the audience”

What would you ask?

Join the TV audience for
BBC Debate Night

And put YOUR question to Scotland's politicians
25th September 2019 in Edinburgh

BBC
Scotland

BBC Scotland's new topical debate programme are looking for you to be part of the audience and to put your questions to leading politicians and public figures

If you would like to apply to take part, contact Mentorn Scotland or follow the link bbc.co.uk/debatenight

Email: debatenightaudience@mentorn.tv
Tel: 0141 611 9616

Any information you provide us will be held in strict confidence in line with our privacy policy www.tinopolis.com/privacy-notice/