

Scotland's Women Stand – for positive change

The Scotland's Women Stand event is on at the Scottish Parliament today, Saturday 7 September 2019.

Deputy Presiding Officer Linda Fabiani MSP welcomes guests during the Scotland's Women Stand event. 07 September 2019. Pic – Andrew Cowan/Scottish Parliament

The event aims to bring together women of all ages, backgrounds, political affiliations and none, to a day full of inspiration, information and motivation, to explore their political purpose and path.

It is part of positive change towards the goal of gender equal political representation, and is a key event as part of the Parliament's 20th Anniversary programme.

There will be also be a local element to the event, with four regional hubs watching the Chamber session and taking part in a Parliament Project workshop.

The event aims to build opportunities for women to meet each other and for organisations to engage with women in order to support their democratic ambitions.

L-R Alison Johnstone MSP, Catie Dundas MSYP, Deputy Presiding Officer Linda Fabiani, pictured during the Scotland's Women Stand event. 07 September 2019. Pic – Andrew Cowan/Scottish Parliament