

It's never too early to start getting active

Inspire kids to get the active habit. With Edinburgh Leisure's soft-play membership, children get to sample the world of sport and fitness from an early age. For those signing up to become a member in October, November is completely free.

From only £16.00* per month, the membership offers incredible value, fantastic flexibility and of course will keep little ones entertained and burning off energy as they explore the amazing soft plays.

Little adventurers can visit as many times as they wish, enjoying unlimited fun at any of Edinburgh Leisure's three soft play venues across the city at Clambers at the Royal Commonwealth Pool, Tumbles at Portobello and the recently refurbished Scrambles at EICA: Ratho.

And children visiting Clambers at the Commie on a Thursday between 13:00-14:00hrs, have the added benefit of joining in the new Messy Play sessions, which have recently been introduced. The product is free to members and is an additional activity as part of your soft-play membership.

Messy Play is an opportunity for children to get involved in sensory activities that lets them get messy. The benefit is that Edinburgh Leisure's staff will clean up the mess after. Children will be given the chance to play with things they can't normally get their hands on. There will be a different activity or theme each week and children will get the chance to do some arts and crafts with their parent/guardian. The kids will be given an apron to keep their clothes clean.

Edinburgh Leisure's play frames are suitable for children up to ten years old and there are frames for babies, toddlers and juniors. Each venue has a café where healthy snacks and tasty treats can be enjoyed.

With great member benefits including special offers, members' events and free birthday party places, The Young Explorer is only available to buy in person at your nearest Edinburgh Leisure soft-play venue. www.edinburghleisure.co.uk
