His theatre work includes playing the role of Danny McGlone in the NTS production of John Byrne's Tutti Frutti.

Make 2nds Count is also running a 'Xmas Factor' competition where they are appealing to budding musical performers of all ages to send their videos in to hello@make2ndcount.co.uk by 31st October to be in with a chance of sharing the stage with a West End cast and perform one of their own songs.

The concert is in aid of Make 2nds Count, founded by husband and wife musical lovers, who met on the stage, Lisa and Euan Fleming, after Lisa was diagnosed in 2017 with secondary breast cancer.

Make 2nds Count is dedicated to giving hope to those affected by this treatable but incurable disease. The charity supports patients and families, raises awareness of secondary breast cancer and funds for medical research that will contribute to advancing an increased quality of life for patients.
