

A Literary Lunch at the Royal Scots Club – tickets on sale now

The Royal Scots Club, Edinburgh is hosting a series of literary lunches in conjunction with Golden Hare books. With champagne on arrival and a three course lunch with wine or soft drinks, the lunch will be held in the Hepburn Suite on Tuesday 10 December 2019 at 12 noon.

During each course, the individual authors will be speaking about their literary achievements and will host a question & answer session.

Trevor Royle, author of Facing the bear, Scotland and the Cold War, is a broadcaster and historian who specialises in the history of war and empire. His latest book paints a fascinating portrait of this extraordinary period.

Rosanne Watt on Moder Dy, A filmmaker and musician from Shetland, Rosanne writes in English, interspersed with Shetlandic dialect throughout.

Rosemary Goring, Scotland: Her Story, columnist and author. Her latest book takes a unique perspective on dramatic national events as well as ordinary life, as experienced by women down centuries.

Royal Scots Club Abercromby Place, Edinburgh, EH3 6QE

A Literary Lunch

Tickets are £50 and are available to book online at www.royalscotsclub.com/literarylunch

Future Literary Lunches are intended for February when the theme will be Love and Romance and March when the theme will be Scottish Crime Writers. Full details to be announced in due course.

The Royal Scots Club Edinburgh PHOTO ©2019 The Edinburgh Reporter