

LeithLate19 – our pick of the events this November

An after dark programme of art and music is coming to Leith this November for a new season

Glow Art Trail

Friday 15 November 2019 – Sunday 17 November 2019

6.00pm – 8.00pm

Starting point: Queen Victoria Statue, Kirkgate, Leith

Free (no booking required)

Glow Art Trail is a free illuminated art trail taking place in and around the Kirkgate over three evenings in November.

Take a walk at the Fit o' Leith Walk between 6-8pm to discover a variety of intriguing and surprising artworks set within the outdoor urban landscape.

Featured artists include include Edinburgh-based visual artist Abi Lewis, illustrator Ursula Kam-Ling Cheng, filmmaker and photographer Lucas Chih-Peng Kao, Dutch-born videographer and projection artist Mettje Hunneman and award-winning Scottish artist Lauren McLaughlin.

Moon Party

Saturday 16 November 2019

8.00pm – late

Leith Theatre

£10

An immersive night of music, light and live performances, set within Pianodrome's sculptural amphitheatre made entirely from recycled pianos. We invite you to experience the strange and the wonderful with live music from S!nk, DJ beats, projection art and glow-in-the-dark performances.

Moon Party is produced in partnership with Pianodrome and Leith Theatre as part of Pianodrome's 'resonancy' at Leith Theatre.
